Faculty of Engineering

Engineering is the application of scientific and mathematical ideas to real-world issues and the development of new products and processes across a wide range of industries and applications.

Engineers use math and science to design, test, and create structures, equipment, devices and processes; thus there will be some similarities in study. However, the specifics will vary based on the subject of engineering you study, ranging from aerospace and chemical engineering to civil and electronics engineering, mechanical engineering and beyond.

Faculty of Pharmacy

Pharmacy is the science and practice of discovering, producing, preparing, dispensing, reviewing and monitoring medications, aiming to ensure the safe, effective, and affordable use of medicines. It is a miscellaneous science as it links health sciences with pharmaceutical sciences and natural sciences. The professional practice is becoming more clinically oriented as most of the drugs are now manufactured by pharmaceutical industries. Based on the setting, pharmacy practice is either classified as community or institutional pharmacy. Providing direct patient care in the community of institutional pharmacies is considered clinical pharmacy.

The scope of pharmacy practice includes more traditional roles such as compounding and dispensing of medications. It also includes more modern services related to health care including clinical services, reviewing medications for safety and efficacy, and providing drug information with patient counselling.
